

As we progress with distance learning, we, St. Thomas Regional School, make this ten-point pledge...

WE PLEDGE

To provide every student at every grade level a continuous content-rich curriculum

To offer instruction using the most effective and engaging synchronous and asynchronous platforms and practices

To balance high-quality on-screen learning with unplugged learning activities that involve personal interactions at home with family

To personalize learning to the interests and aspirations of our student-scholars and differentiate content and delivery for their innate abilities and potentials

To meet effectively the special learning needs of students with exceptionalities

To provide meaningful and multiform assessments that guide teacher instruction and assist students and parents with understanding the students' mastery of content and skills

To compassionately support the social and emotional needs of our students in this time of uncertainty and widespread anxiety

To ensure that students are safe when online and their privacy secure

To communicate regularly and meaningfully with parents, our partners in education

To ensure a fully Catholic education under the inspiration of Christ the Teacher who informs our teaching and guides our students' learning.

While our school may be closed temporarily, the hearts and minds of our students remain open—open wide to faith and learning. And although now we are distant for the health and safety of our classmates and families, we are united as one community in the Body of Christ.
